In an ideal world both parents are at home and effectively co-parent their children, but in the real world most often children are raised in a single parent home, usually the mother. Between 1960 and 2006, the number of children living in single-mother families went from 8 percent to 23.3 percent, and 34 percent of children currently live absent their biological father.

2NOT1 was established to help make the ideal situation a reality. With a focus on fathers, 2NOT1 is dedicated to Engage, Educate, and Empower fathers by removing barriers, external or internal, so fathers have all the opportunity to be the best they can be.

Secondly, 2NOT1, emphasizes the importance of effective co-parenting. Through various efforts that bring resources, support, and parents together 2NOT1 is making this a reality.

Through tremendous community support from various individuals, organizations, and corporations we are changing the lives of children one father at a time!